

DOVETAIL

D&R's Dovetail ecosystem provides fleets with a truly universal on-the-go computing system that utilizes Samsung Dex. Allowing fleets to do away with their traditional mobile and in office workstations, Dovetail's infrastructure provides a solution where users can be stationed at any desk or vehicle as long as there is a Dovetail Docking Station present. D&R's patented forward compatible rail design invites fleets to upgrade as well as have multiple Samsung Galaxy models in the environment without having to change or modify any of the existing docking station hardware. This feat is accomplished with the use of the Dovetail phones case that takes advantage of the patented rail design resulting in a truly cost saving mobile computing solution.

IN THE CAR

D&R's Dovetail Vehicle Docking Station uses a unique rail design that accepts D&R Dovetail phones cases which allows Samsung's Dex feature to be utilized all while providing power to charge the device's battery.

Features:

- 10 Ft USB C to USB C cable (USB 3.1) to allow versatility for mounting.
- Mechanical locking pin and release button to secure device when vehicle is in motion.
- Universal rail that allows other Samsung devices to be docked with D&R Dovetail cases without altering components on the dock.
